

Enriching the Board and CEO Partnership

What my CEO and Board clients often tell me:

“Forging a solid partnership between the Board and CEO is critical for long term success in our organization.”

“We find great value in talking to someone in complete candor and confidence.”

“Retaining a CEO and Board advisor for a second opinion is a valuable resource when making decisions and judgment calls.”

My role is to assist CEOs and Boards:

- Link people, strategy, and operations to achieve results and unity
- Optimize leadership team and board performance
- Inspire and engage each other to get things done
- See things from a fresh perspective
- Identify and evaluate options
- Separate facts from emotion
- Find innovative solutions
- Navigate board dynamics

CEO Client Testimonial:

"You have a strong understanding of best practices in leadership and governance that guides your advice to be productive and world class. Additionally you separate the emotion from an issue and focus on what the organization needs – but you don't ignore the power that emotions and culture play in enhancing the Board and CEO partnership."
